Home Automation

Indigo

A home control server that integrates INSTEON and X10 hardware devices. Save money, conserve water, and reduce electrical usage by automating your home with Indigo's unlimited scheduling and control logic. Using Indigo's built-in Web server, you can access and control your home from anywhere using any modern Web browser (including the iPhone and iPod touch!).

Thinking Home

Home automation solution that is savvy about the most popular controllers, like the PowerLinc V2 and ActiveHome Pro. In many cases, it can store your schedule in a controller and let you turn off your Mac. Even the most powerful features are made simple, so that normal people can benefit. One of the coolest features is the built-in speech recognition. You say "Turn on the living room lamp." and it does!

Languages

Learn how to play your favorite songs as the virtual fretboard guides you through the music at your own pace and plays in sync with your CDs, audio files, or the included MIDI.

Pets & Animals

Aquarist

Designed with the heavily-planted fish tank owner in mind. Aquarist helps you to convert between the most commonly used units; determine how your weekly water changes affect your tank; calculate CO₂ levels using two different methods; and mix your own fertilizer solutions.

Fish Tank Tool

Simple tool for working out the volume of water held in an aquarium, its surface area, and the approximate number of fish that can be kept in it.

iBird

Organises information about birds and birding field trips.

Maquarium

Aquarium management software for the novice or expert fish keeper. It allows users to track chemicals, schedule tasks, keep notes, analyze expenses and manage inventory. Maquarium features a built-in database that contains information which helps you track and maintain the delicate needs of each fish, plant, coral and invertebrate in the tank.

More Can I Keep It?

Introduces aquarists to the art of choosing fish for the community aquarium. Essentially it is an interactive version of the compatibility matrices seen in some aquarium books.

Wings

Store bird sightings data and the supporting taxonomic, location, observer and source data; Perform data entry one record at a time whilst managing millions of records.

Weather

Home Weather Center

A weather graphing, monitoring and analysis application for Mac OS X. HWC is designed as a virtual weather station using Internet based weather sources rather than the more traditional and costly hardware based sensors.

Seasonality

Takes weather monitoring to a whole new level with weather forecasts, radar images, astronomical data, and much more. View informative icons demonstrating what weather is coming your way over the next 7 days. Use radar images to check out where it is raining or snowing. Compare this month's weather conditions to last month's, or even last year's. Keep track of just your hometown or multiple cities around the globe.
